

Grandparenting pathways

The Registration standard: Grandparenting sets out alternative ways of proving you may be qualified for general registration as a paramedic for those who do not have an approved or accepted qualification.

It's important that you read the standard for detailed information.

Here is a summary of the three pathways, including eligibility and evidence you may need to provide to gain registration through grandparenting provisions.

Pathways	Pathway (311(1)(a)) Adequate qualification	Pathway (311(1)(b)) Combination of qualifications/training and further study or a period of supervised practice	Pathway (311(1)(c)) Competence to practice pathway
Deciding which pathway you are eligible for	Qualification min AQF L7 (Bachelor or higher), and you could practice paramedicine with that qualification in the state it was issued, and your qualification was issued by a higher education institution e.g. university, and the qualification was subject to external quality assurance form those with expertise in paramedicine.	 Qualification min AQF L5 (Diploma or higher), and you could practice paramedicine with that qualification in the state it was issued, and your qualification was issued by a registered training institution e.g. RTO, and you have at least 1700 hours of supervised practice in a JAS or under a registered paramedic or passed a Board approved assessment. 	 Demonstrate 5 years practice as a paramedic in the past 10 years, and Show your competence as a paramedic (see evidence below for guidance).
Evidence you must provide when you apply	Brief practice history
	Evidence of training undertaken that has been approved by the Board as adequate.	Evidence of training or further study undertaken. Evidence of your successful completion of any period of supervised practice.	A detailed practice history as required in the application process and a portfolio about your practice and competence as a paramedic that mainclude: Statement of service
			Letter from employer
			A position description
			Proof of registration
			Authority to practice
	www.paramedicineboard.gov.au		Performance review
			Personal submission